S. A. T. C. Unit Established

Men Over 18 Should Enter School at Once.

The Normal school has been ordered by the government to enroll students for Military Training. President Richardson returned Sunday from Washington where he completed arrangements with the proper officials for the organization of a S. A. T. C. Unit in conjunction with Tarkio College, Tarkio.

The Normal is offering to care for from 150 to 200 boys, the school providing housing, board and instruction. The government furnishes military instruction, the uniform, equipment and $30 a month to each applicant. The soldiers may be housed in the main building of the school.

Work in the S. A. T. C. is open to all men above eighteen years who have completed the equivalent of thirteen high school units. Applicants may enter school now and if they pass the physical examination be inducted into the corps, Oct. 1 at which date the military training begins the country over.

It is a great advantage to the registrants to take their training at the school because promising students will be chosen from this number for officers' training camps.

SENIORS START SOCIAL SEASON.

The Seniors started the social season Friday evening, Sept. 20, when they were entertained at a progressive party by their sponsor, Miss Winn, and their president, Miss Ward. They met at the library and went from there to the Empire Theater where they were the guests of Miss Winn. After a pleasant car ride with Henry, the party progressed to the home of Miss Ward, where a short business session was held, followed by a jolly get-acquainted-time. Later refreshments were served.

RECENT LETTERS FROM OUR BOYS ASK NORMAL NEWS.

We have just received a letter from Eugene Bird, a former member of the Courier staff who is now in France. Part of it runs as follows: "On our way to this camp we stopped at the edge of a small town and camped over night. The village people were all excited over something. I wanted to see what it was over, so I made my way into the crowd and found a wild hog that had been killed by one of the natives. Its legs were about ten or twelve inches long and I know it could run like a deer. Its snout was every bit eighteen inches in length. The next day the people skinned it and roasted it in the woods. It was so lean I'm afraid they didn't get much but bacon."

Geo. W. Somerville writes from Camp Joseph Johnston, Florida that he is in charge of the receiving of supplies at a receiving camp. "This camp is where the Rookie is received and suddenly made into a soldier. Ross Wynn, 1912, is also stationed there."

C. T. Richards tells of his ship, U. S. S. Indiana which has ten ships to her credit during the Spanish American War and still bears a shell mark on her armor plate. He is now helping to train firemen; this is not hard work but is hot as the temperature is 130 degrees when under way. He asks for letters, sent to the Indiana, care of the postmaster, N. Y.

Vern Cornelius writes from Somewhere in France that he has plenty to do but is well cared for by Uncle Sam. He says France is very beautiful but the hand of war can be plainly seen and cruelly felt.

Walter Miller wishes to hear from the Normal often. His address is M. G. Co. 351 Inf., A. E. F. He writes that his trip across the country was delightful as they were met at every stop by members of the Red Cross who gave them everything they needed. He says that the farther east they got the more the people waved and yelled in the good old American way.

He signs himself a Bear Cat Soldier.

Willard Ellsworth, a former Normal student, writes that he is at present at Edgewood Arsenal, Edge-

SERVICE FLAG A REMINDER WITH 185 STARS.

The service flag which we see every morning as we come to school is a constant reminder of our boys in the service. Since the last issue of the Courier, twenty-five names have been added to the list, making 185 on the Honor Roll. Many of the Normal boys are probably in the present American drive for a number of them belonged to the 89th division. Watch the list on the honor roll, and if there are any who are in service whose names are omitted, please report to some member of the Courier staff.

The new names are:

MR. FOSTER'S SHIP TORPEDOED.

The troop ship carrying Mr. Foster was torpedoed, but the crew and passengers were uninjured.

Mrs. Foster has received a message from the Y. M. C. A., saying Mr. Foster was safe. She has not, however heard from him that he has arrived safely overseas.

Cornelius Roach, president of the State Tax Commission, visited the school Wednesday morning, Sept. 18, for the purpose of making up the biennial budget of the Normal.

Warren Wilson, of Guilford, visited at the Normal Sept. 5. He was in Maryville to attend the Nodaway County Fair.

Normal Opens September 2

President Announces Changes in Faculty.

Monday, Sept. 2, the Normal opened on the new three-term-a-year plan. In counting noses, eleven seniors were found to be entered. Enrollment has been slower than usual, due for the most part to the fact that students were preparing for S. A. T. C.

A number of changes have been made in the faculty. Miss Juanita Floyd who has taught for sometime in Christian College, Columbia, Mo., but who has been working for her doctor's degree at Columbia University this last year, takes Miss Hook's place in the teaching of foreign languages. Mr. DeLong who is to fill the place of Mr. Belting will take charge of the agriculture department as soon as his position as county agent of Otoe County, Nebr., can be filled and he can be released from there. Mr. M. H. Simms of the Public Schools of Clarinda, Iowa, takes Mr. Palfreyman's place as M. T. instructor and athletic coach. Mr. Simms is a graduate of Kansas State Agriculture College at Manhattan, and has had several years experience in Iowa and Kansas.

Mr. Simms will assist in the Agriculture Department until Mr. DeLong arrives.

The classes in history, formerly taught by Mr. Foster, now on leave of absence in France, are being handled by Dr. Davis, Mr. Cook and Mr. Swinehart. Miss Olive De Luce, head of the Art Department who has been away on leave of absence since last spring is again in charge of her department.

Do you know Normal etiquette now? Then do not advance without the counter sign beyond the new white curtains in the outer office.

When you enter the outer office, you are now in a busy business room. On the other side of the open door, you will find Pres. Richardson, the chairman of the Committees on Recommendations, of Correspondence, the dean of women, and the dean of the faculty. In case the one for whom you are looking should be out, speak to any of those present and your needs will be attended to.

The office was arranged in this manner to keep the record room free from disturbance.

"LIBERTY BONDS OR GERMAN TAXES?"

Citizens of free America, Attention! Germany is boasting today, that she will tax you to pay for this war. Do you want to pay taxes to Germany? Do you love oppression? Do you covet for yourself and your children, the fate of Belgium?

If you love liberty, hate oppression, help win this war, thru buying liberty bonds. If you don't buy Liberty Bonds, you bring the war mad Hohenzollern, one step nearer your door. Hohenzollern, means tax gatherer. If Germany wins, you will not lend; you will give your wealth. For freedom's sake, lend your money to the United States government, with the best security in the world. We must not, we dare not lose this war, for humanity's sake.

Be a life saver, a patriotic American, a liberty lover and buy Liberty Bonds, that "the Star-Spangled Banner In Triumph May Wave, O'er the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave."

wood, Maryland. In part, he says: "Enlisted in the C. W. S. Aug 8. Reported at Washington, D. C., and was assigned up here. Am in detention yet. However, I shall be put in 3d Chemical Battalion."

George Wamsley in a recent letter tells of some of the things he is seeing in France:

"We are in a beautiful mountainous country now. It is in many respects the best country we have been in yet. It is hay harvest here now. All the hay is cut with scythes, raked on packs or in baskets on a person's back. The houses and barns all over France seem to be mostly one piece affairs either of stone or brick with slate, tile or stone roofs. There is a curious echo in our valley due to the explosions of the blasting charges on the road above which produces a long roar of echo which is repeated three times. The first echo is very strong; the others weak. There are many springs here; also many huckleberries. The mess sergeant has promised us a huckleberry cobbler if we would procure the berries and I think we have an abundance. The blood-thirsty flies are terrible. They nearly carry one off and bite very hard. They seem to prefer huckleberry patches."

Wamsley was a good Philo and would be glad to hear from members past and present of the society. His address is Co. E, 110 Engrs., American E. F.

THE EUREKANS ARE GROWING.

There were few old members to begin work this fall. Our old "stand by," Mr. Miller, gave us a delightful reading of genuine humor, at our first meeting. Since then our membership has increased.

Our meeting of Sept. 10, was very successful. After two musical selections on the victrola, Mayhew Saville explained the effect of this war upon poetry. Jessie Murphy read several good war poems. Miss Boggs took us to Boston in her story, and very interestingly described that quaint old city.

Another meeting of the Eurekan

Literary Society was held Sept. 18. Mrs. Bird gave a review of one of the late war novels, "Holding the Line." The living pipe organ was also a feature of the program. Miss Brunner talked to us about "The Long Long Trail."

MR. CAUFFIELD MARRIED.

Mr. A. J. Cauffield and Miss Jessie Bent were married at the home of the bride's parents, Aug. 3 at 6 p. m., Rev. C. M. Miller officiating. It was a quiet wedding with only the members of the immediate family present. After a four-course supper, Mr. and Mrs. Cauffield left on the evening train for a trip thru the east, remaining at French Lick Springs, Ind., eight days, and visiting with Mr. Cauffield's parents and sister at Youngstown, Ohio, two weeks. They now have apartments at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Colvin on West Third street.

Pres. Richardson has just returned from St. Louis where he has been attending the annual meeting of state educational institutions and the state department. The members of this Conference are the state superintendent and the presidents of the state institutions and the visiting committee made up of representative faculty members from them. The meeting was held at the Planter's Hotel, Sept. 18.

NOTES OF THE DEPARTMENTS.

Biology.

Inquiries have frequently come to the Biology Department regarding the edibility of the mushrooms that have been so abundant during the recent fall rains. The question usually asked is, "Is it a toadstool or a mushroom?" It is both, for the names are interchangeable.

As regards the edibility, there are a few rules of safety well worth knowing. There are but few species that are deadly poisonous, and many that will cause nausea or temporary illness. The deadly varieties look so innocent and their poison has such a subtle deceiving method of action that "safety first is the best rule; never experiment.

The following rule is the safety first rule: "The beginner who avoids eating all mushrooms combining these three characters, white gills, a ring around the stem, and a cup or scales at the bulb-like base of the stem, will be in no danger of fatal poisoning." The ring around the stem sometimes disappears at the maturity so that care must be taken to apply this rule to young plants only. Other plants may cause illness but the rule eliminates the element of fatality.

The following statements in regard to species edible will give an opportunity of selection without any element of suspicion. "All the soft skinned puff balls are edible if white to the center." These are the rounded stemless type of sizes varying from a thimble to a bushel basket in exceptional cases.

One of the best ways of cooking mushrooms is to slice thinly and fry in butter, salt and pepper.

English.

The government will soon launch its fourth liberty bond campaign. In preparing for this new work, the government asks for the support of the newspapers. Subjects for editorials are sent out, and the editors must, thru these editorials, influence the people to buy bonds.

The composition class has been using some of the subjects for editorials. The aim is to make people feel the obligation to lend money. Of those written, the one judged most convincing appears in the editorial column.

Agriculture.

Mr. Leeson is at present in charge of the work in agriculture. He will be relieved as soon as the head of this department arrives.

Mr. Leeson reports that he spent a portion of his summer on a farm, thereby earning in part his subscription to the Red Cross.

Science.

While passing thru Chicago, August 29, Mr. Wilson met and talked with Dr. Harrington. Dr. Harrington was about to leave Chicago for his new position with the Westinghouse people in New Jersey.

From the increased interest in science about the Normal, students generally seem to be realizing the truth of the statement of an eminent chemist who says that 80 per cent of the present war is science. At any rate, it is quite common knowledge that to understand war conditions, one must speak to a great or less extent the languages of chemistry and physics. The classes in both these subjects are large, and increasing day by day.

Home Economics.

The whole course in home economics has been changed this year, not only to meet the new trimester organization but to meet the needs of the present time.

The course in home nursing has been planned to conform to government regulations.

Reading and Public Speaking.

In his reading classes, Mr. Miller has begun a new kind of work, which is called the conversation class.

The class is divided into several groups with a leader at the head of each group. The leader begins a conversation, using as a basis, some current topic. The group must then enter into the conversation, and they are graded on their ability to enter into the topics brought before them by the leader. This feature of the work is usually given the last fifteen minutes of the class period.

MISS HELWIG ENTERTAINS.

Miss Helwig of the mathematics department and her sister, entertained the ladies of the Faculty, Friday evening, Sept. 13, in honor of Miss Jaunita Floyd, of the modern language department.

ALMA LUCAS IN HOSPITAL.

Alma Lucas, who has been teaching in the Barnard School, underwent an operation for appendicitis at St. Francis Hospital, Sept. 15. Miss Lucas was a student of the Normal last year.

STROLLER.

I am back. Yea, the Stroller has come back. I strolled the country over during vacation, yet no place did they have such delicious secrets to tell. Now, you detectives, you are going to say—"At last, I have caught that darned stroller and he is a woman." But you are mistaken. Alas, as a great secret, I might say, on the other hand, I am in the draft, but was deported because I refused to answer any questionnaire about myself. However, I succeeded in getting myself appointed aide number thirteen to officer assigned for military training here, and thus I am. In conclusion, as to my age, which a woman never tells, I think the war will close before I am sixty years old.

A prominent teacher about the Normal knits a great deal. One day last summer, while sitting on a hotel porch, a woman came up to her, and said, "Pardon me, are you knitting for your son?"

Do you know why Prexy sits back in his office looking so concerned? That's one of those delicious secrets I am bound to tell. Sh! He is concerned with adding new faculty members to take care of the girls drawn here by the brass buttons. How far that little button shows its gleam! There stands a brave soldier in a natty suit!

Groans, sighs, agonies—Dante's Inferno? No, College Physics.

Definitions from Current History: A salient is the ally of any warring nation—as England is the salient of France.

A salient is a place well fortified usually a hill.

The salient forces are the attacking forces.

Salient means one division or flank of the army.

Salient as used in the present war is a patch of ground grouped around a certain place.

Salient front, a battle field where many of the recent battles have taken place in the north.

ATHLETIC NOTES.

Members of the Physical Education class, course 12, are getting some practical experience by playing on the playground with the children of the demonstration school, who are preparing for a track meet to be held some time in October. Every two weeks three girls are appointed to take charge of the players. Etha Henderson, Marjorie Ruh and Gail Bishop have been selected this week. Tennis players and all those interested in becoming players should see Miss Boggs at once. She is teaching the girls who have never played the game and playing with those who have. This work started Sept. 10.

Mr. Palfreyman writes from St. St. Joseph that he has 560 boys in military training and 40 on his football squad. It keeps him on the go from 8:30 to 6.

PRIMARY TEACHERS ORGANIZE.

The primary teachers of the Normal met at the close of the summer session and organized as a branch of the National Council of Primary Education.

"The National Council of Primary Education came into existence spontaneously at Cincinnati, Feb. 22, 1915, when thirty representative women in attendance upon the meeting of the Department of Superintendents, lunched together and discussed the needs of the primary school. Finding themselves of one mind they took the initial steps toward an organization for the purpose of urging the co-operation of all those interested in primary schools for their betterment, through greater use of the activities, greater freedom of method and a closer relationship with the kindergarten and the grades above."

The policy of the organization includes informal gatherings of primary workers in connection with all the great meetings of teachers; informal discussions of problems of immediate interest; influence brought to bear to have the problems of primary education receive due attention on teacher's programs, and to encourage local groups of teachers to study and discuss their immediate problems and to co-operate for their solution.

The officers of the Normal branch are: chairman, Francis Holliday; secretary and treasurer, Eunice Gromer; chairman of membership committee, Dora Willis.

The membership is open to all persons interested in the educational problems of the first four school years. At present there are thirty-seven members.

Philip Colbert, son of Dean Colbert, is now at Camp McArthur, Waco, Tex.

Miss Hopkins and her mother spent the week end, Sept. 14 and 15, at Bolckow.

A visitor at Mr. Swinehart's home over the holidays, was Carl Bose, a former Normal student. He came here from Camp Dodge to spend Sunday with his wife. Before her marriage, she was Edith Callahan.

Edward Condon has arrived safely overseas, and is now "Somewhere in France."

Miss Dale Hulet is attending the Normal this winter. She will secure her B. S. degree at the end of the spring quarter. For the past four years she has taught in the public schools of Maryville.

Demonstration School.

The boys of the fifth and sixth grades, of the demonstration school, are making window boxes to be used this winter for plants. The seventh and eighth grades are making furniture for the house made by the fifth and sixth grades last winter.

Art.

Art 111, high school art, has been divided into two sections. This art is very important later, where it aids in the methods course.

Football Fever.

These afternoons we see many Normal boys gazing out the north windows at the groups of high school boys, who are practicing on the gridiron. The attraction is great. Why? No explanation need be given. It is growing cool, and the football spirit is calling.

After two years absence, during which she was teaching, Eula Snowberger has returned to the Normal. She is working for a provisional certificate.

Ruth Miller attended library school during the summer at the University of Missouri. She is now assisting in the St. Joseph Public Library.

Kenneth Carter of Mound City enrolled Sept. 24.
